

NEH Grant Application–writing Workshop

Thursday, March 19

8:45 a.m.–1 p.m., lunch provided

University of Missouri

Mark Twain Ballroom

Memorial Union North, 518 Hitt Street

Faculty and staff members at universities across Missouri are invited to a grant-writing workshop coordinated by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH). The workshop will include a general overview of NEH programs and initiatives, followed by a session devoted to specific issues involved in the writing and review of applications, including tips and strategies.

To register, please complete this form or contact Amanda Schlink at schlinka@missouri.edu or 573-884-4482.

Dr. Claudia Kinkela, senior program officer at NEH, will offer one-on-one meetings with up to 12 registered faculty members who are actively working on NEH grant proposals. These are private appointments and will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis. To request a meeting with Dr. Kinkela to review your application materials, please contact Amanda Schlink.

College of Arts and Science