I. Program Description

The Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan program is a joint activity of the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission (JUSFC) and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The program aims to promote Japan studies in the United States, to encourage U.S.-Japanese scholarly exchange, and to support the next generation of Japan scholars in the U.S. Awards support research on modern Japanese society and political economy, Japan's international relations, and U.S.-Japan relations. The program encourages innovative research that puts these subjects in wider regional and global contexts and is comparative and contemporary in nature. Research should contribute to scholarly knowledge or to the general public's understanding of issues of concern to Japan and the United States. Appropriate disciplines for the research include anthropology, economics, geography, history, international relations, linguistics, political science, psychology, and sociology. Awards usually result in articles, monographs, books, e-books, digital materials, translations, editions, or other scholarly resources.

The fellowships are designed for researchers with advanced Japanese language skills whose research will require use of data, sources, and documents, onsite interviews, or other direct contact in Japanese. Fellows may undertake their projects in Japan, the United States, or both, and may include work in other countries for comparative purposes. Projects may be at any stage of development.

In keeping with the JUSFC commitment to foster the next generation of leaders in developing and maintaining the Japan-U.S. relationship, NEH encourages applications to this program from junior scholars (that is, scholars who have earned their terminal degree within the last seven years).

NEH also encourages submission of Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan applications from independent scholars and faculty at Hispanic-Serving Institutions, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, and Tribal Colleges and Universities.

Applicants may wish to consult the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission's website for other funding opportunities.

Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan may not be used for

- projects focused primarily on pre-modern (that is, pre-1868) Japan;
- promotion of a particular political, religious, or ideological point of view;
- advocacy of a particular program of social or political action;
- support of specific public policies or legislation;
- projects that fall outside of the social sciences;
- the creation or performance of art; creative writing, autobiographies, memoirs, and creative nonfiction; or projects focused primarily on the interpretation of artistic or literary works;

- research by students enrolled in a degree program, including research for doctoral dissertations or theses;
- the preparation or revision of textbooks;
- curriculum development;
- the development of teaching methods or theories;
- educational or technical impact assessments;
- the creation or enhancement of databases, unless part of a larger interpretive project;
- inventories of collections;
- the writing of guide books, how-to books, and self-help books;
- the writing of graphic fiction or nonfiction; or
- the writing of books for children or young adults.

Providing access to NEH-funded products

As a taxpayer-supported federal agency, NEH endeavors to make the products of its awards available to the broadest possible audience. Our goal is for scholars, educators, students, and the American public to have ready and easy access to the wide range of NEH-funded products. For the Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan program, such products may include digital resources, websites, and the like. For projects that lead to the development of websites or web-based publications or resources, all other considerations being equal, NEH gives preference to those that provide free access to the public. Additional guidance on access and dissemination matters can be found below in Section II, Preparing and Organizing your Application, beneath the “Final product and dissemination” heading.

Award information

Awards for the 2019 competition are contingent on the availability of funds from the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission.

Fellowships cover periods lasting no less than six months and no more than twelve months at a stipend of $5,000 per month. The maximum stipend is $60,000 for a twelve-month award period. The period of performance must be full-time and continuous. Teaching and administrative assignments or other major activities may not be undertaken during the fellowship period. NEH and JUSFC will not approve part-time fellowships under any circumstance.

Applicants should request periods of performance that suit their schedules and the needs of their projects. Requesting a period of performance shorter than twelve months will not improve an applicant’s chances of receiving a fellowship.

Recipients may begin their periods of performance as early as February 1, 2020, and as late as September 1, 2021.

Applicants requesting a period of performance shorter than six months or longer than twelve months will not be reviewed.

The recipient may copyright any work that is subject to copyright and was developed, or for which ownership was acquired, under the fellowship. NEH reserves a royalty-free, non-exclusive, and irrevocable right to reproduce, publish, or otherwise use an award recipient's NEH-supported work for federal purposes, and to authorize others to do so. NEH has typically exercised this right in consultation with Fellowship award recipients to publish an excerpt from resulting grant product(s) in Humanities magazine or on the NEH website.

Successful applicants will be required to complete the Fellowships Acceptance Form (PDF), from which a payment schedule will be determined. Award funds will be paid in U.S. dollars. Fellows are responsible for the conversion of funds to foreign currencies where necessary.

All awards are made by the National Endowment for the Humanities on behalf of the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission. As such, all awards are governed by NEH grant policies and conditions.

Prospective applicants who have questions are encouraged to contact the Fellowships staff at fellowships@neh.gov.

Eligibility

Within the parameters listed below (see the next several headings), individuals are eligible to apply, whether they have an institutional affiliation or not.

Citizenship

U.S. citizens, whether they reside inside or outside the United States, are eligible to apply. Foreign nationals who have been living in the United States or its jurisdictions for at least the three years prior to the application deadline are also eligible. Foreign nationals who take up permanent residence outside the United States any time between the application deadline and the end of the period of performance will forfeit their eligibility to hold an award. (Leaving the U.S. on a temporary basis is permitted.)

Currently enrolled students

While applicants need not have advanced degrees, individuals currently enrolled in a degree-granting program are ineligible to apply. Applicants who have satisfied all the requirements for a degree and are awaiting its conferral in 2019 are eligible for Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan; but such applicants must include as an attachment to the application a letter from the dean of the conferring school or their department chair attesting to the applicant's status as of April 24, 2019.

Dissertation revisions

Applicants may seek funding for projects based on completed dissertations. You must state in your application narrative that the proposal is to revise a dissertation, and you must explain how the new project moves beyond the original dissertation.

Projects previously supported by NEH Fellowships

An applicant may request funding for a project that has previously received a NEH (or a JUSFC-NEH) Fellowship. NEH will ask evaluators to review the accomplishments from the prior fellowship and determine if the project warrants additional support.

An NEH grant for one stage of a project does not commit NEH to continued support for the project. Applications for each stage of a project are evaluated independently.

Concurrent grants from other organizations

Recipients of Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan may simultaneously hold fellowships or grants from institutions other than NEH—including sabbaticals and grants from their own institutions—in support of the same project during their period of performance.

Collaborative projects

The Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan program is designed primarily for individual researchers. An award may not be divided among multiple collaborators. If you are seeking funding for more than one participant in a collaborative project, each person seeking funding must submit a separate application specifying the individual contribution. Panelists will be asked to evaluate each application on its own merits. Each application should clearly explain how the work will be divided and the extent to which each collaborator's contribution depends on that of the other(s). Applicants who are seeking funding only for themselves but who are working as part of a collaborative team are also eligible. In this case, too, the application should clearly explain how the work will be divided and the extent to which each collaborator's contribution depends on that of the other(s).

Multiple applications

Applicants for Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan may compete concurrently in the following programs for individuals in a given year:

- Public Scholar Program;
- Summer Stipends;
- NEH and National Science Foundation - Fellowship Program for Documenting Endangered Languages \(DEL\);
- Library of Congress (LOC) - John W. Kluge Center Fellowships; and
- NEH-funded fellowships at independent research institutions.

Each competition has separate requirements for its application. Please follow the instructions in the relevant set of guidelines in each case.

Applicants may not compete concurrently for NEH Fellowships, NEH-Mellon Fellowships for Digital Publication, or for Awards for Faculty at Hispanic-Serving Institutions, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, or Tribal Colleges and Universities.

Applicants may not hold two or more NEH individual awards (for example, a Fellowship for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan and a Summer Stipend) with overlapping periods of performance. You may hold or accept only one NEH individual award (for example, a Fellowship or Fellowship for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan, an Award for Faculty, a Public Scholar award, or a Summer Stipend) in a given federal fiscal year. (The federal fiscal year runs from October 1 through September 30.)

Please note that if you apply to the Summer Stipends program and subsequently accept a Fellowship for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan, your application to the Summer Stipends program will be automatically withdrawn.

Applicants may not work on a project supported by an NEH institutional award while holding an NEH individual award that requires continuous, full-time work.

Applications must be complete, must observe the specified page limits, and must be received and validated by Grants.gov under the correct funding opportunity number to be considered under this notice.

NEH will not review late, incomplete, or ineligible applications. Applications exceeding the page limits for any of the application elements will not be reviewed.

II. Preparing and Organizing your Application

Resources for preparing a strong application

To prepare a strong application, applicants are encouraged to take the following steps:

- read these guidelines carefully, noting what information needs to be provided in the application;
- review the sample narratives, which are available on the program resource page;
- consult the program's review criteria, which are listed immediately below;
- read the Frequently Asked Questions, which are available on the program resource page; and
- contact the program staff (at 202-606-8200 or fellowships@neh.gov) to discuss your project and raise any questions you may have about the application.

The Fellowships staff does not read and comment on draft proposals. Potential applicants may, however, discuss with staff specific concerns or questions that arise during the preparation of their proposals. Contact NEH's Division of Research Programs at 202-606-8200 or fellowships@neh.gov.

While staff responses to concerns or questions are not part of the formal review process and have no bearing on the final outcome of the proposal, previous applicants have found them helpful.

Once an application has been submitted, staff will not comment on it except with respect to issues of completeness and eligibility.

Review criteria

Reviewers are asked to apply the following six criteria when judging the quality of applications.

1. The intellectual significance of the proposed project, including its value to social science scholars, general audiences, or both.
2. The degree to which the proposed project furthers scholarly knowledge or public understanding of contemporary Japanese society or political economy, Japan's contemporary international relations, and/or U.S.-Japan relations.
3. The quality or promise of quality of the applicant's work as an interpreter of the social sciences.
4. The quality of the conception, definition, organization, and description of the project and the applicant's clarity of expression.
5. The feasibility and appropriateness of the proposed plan of work, including, when relevant, the soundness of the dissemination and access plans.
6. The likelihood that the applicant will complete the project (not necessarily during the period of performance).

Note: Evaluators may or may not be specialists in the proposed field of study of each application. Some review panels will be disciplinary, others interdisciplinary. Thus applicants should make sure to write for a broad scholarly audience and to avoid or explain technical terms whenever possible.

Note: Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan support projects at any stage of development.

Application elements

Your application should include the parts listed below. Because award amounts are based on the length of the period of performance, no budget is required. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that all parts of the application, including the letters of reference, have been properly submitted.

Applicants should format single-spaced pages with one-inch margins and with a font size no smaller than eleven point.

Applications exceeding the page limits for the various components or violating the format instructions will not be reviewed.

For important guidance on choosing your project title, see below under Part III (Submitting your Application), Step 4, point 6.a.

1. Narrative—Not to Exceed Three Single-Spaced Pages (using a font no smaller than 11 points)

The narrative must provide an intellectual justification for your project, addressing the four areas listed below: research and contribution; methods and work plan; competencies, skills, and access; and final product and dissemination. A simple statement of need or intent is insufficient. The narrative should not assume specialized knowledge and should be free of technical terms and jargon.

○ Research and contribution

Describe the intellectual significance of the proposed project, including its value to social science scholars, general audiences, or both. State the project's thesis or claim and provide an overview, explaining the basic ideas, problems, arguments, or questions examined by the study. Explain how the project will complement, challenge, or expand relevant studies in the field. Explain how the proposed project furthers scholarly knowledge or public understanding of contemporary Japanese society or political economy, Japan's contemporary international relations, and/or U.S.-Japan relations.

○ Methods and work plan

Describe your method(s). Indicate the current state of the project and clarify the part or stage of it that will be supported by the fellowship. Provide a work plan describing what will be accomplished during the period of performance, your schedule for accomplishing it, where you will be, and how you will spend your time. Explain how your proposed research will advance the project. Your work plan must be based on a full-time commitment to the project; part-time work is not allowed. If you do not anticipate finishing the entire project during the period of performance, discuss your plan for doing so. Your work plan for the period of performance should not depend heavily on factors beyond your control, such as the receipt of outside readers' reports from a publisher.

For book projects, explain how the final project will be organized. If possible, provide a brief chapter outline. If you are proposing a dissertation revision, state this, explaining the changes to the manuscript that you plan, and how they will improve it. (You must explain how the new project moves beyond the original dissertation.) For digital projects, describe the technologies that will be used and developed, and explain how the scholarship will be presented to benefit audiences in the social sciences.

If you are requesting funding for the development, acquisition, preservation, or enhancement of geospatial data, products, or services, you must conduct a due diligence search at the Data.gov list of datasets to discover whether the needed geospatial-related data, products, or services already exist. If not, you must produce the proposed geospatial data, products, or services in compliance with applicable proposed guidance posted at www.fgdc.gov.

- Competencies, skills, and access

Explain your competence or background in the area of your project. If the area of inquiry is new to you, explain your reasons for working in it and your qualifications to do so. Specify the level of competence in any language or digital technology needed for the study. Describe where the study will be conducted and what research materials will be used. If relevant, specify the arrangements for access to archives, collections, or institutions that contain the necessary resources, and name any Japanese sponsors of or collaborators on your project.

- Final product and dissemination

Describe the intended audience and the intended results of the project. Explain how the results will be disseminated and why these means are appropriate to the subject matter and audience. If the project has a website, provide the URL. If the final product will appear in a language other than English, explain how access and dissemination will be affected.

JUSFC and NEH expect fellowship recipients to provide broad access to all grant products, insofar as the conditions of the materials and intellectual property rights allow. For projects that lead to the development of websites or web-based publications or resources, all other considerations being equal, JUSFC and NEH will give preference to those that provide free access to the public.

JUSFC and NEH also expect that any materials produced in digital form as a result of its awards will be maintained so as to ensure their long-term availability. To that end, describe how the project's digital results, if any, will be sustained and supported beyond the period of performance.

2. Bibliography—Not to Exceed One Single-Spaced Page

The bibliography should consist of primary and secondary sources that relate directly to the project. Include works that pertain to both the project's substance and its theoretical or methodological approaches. Evaluators will use the bibliography to assess your knowledge of the subject area, including relevant materials in Japanese. Any standard format is acceptable. Provide English translations for any non-English titles that you list. If you are proposing work with archival materials, indicate the archive(s) in which they are held.

3. Résumé—Not to Exceed Two Single-Spaced Pages

Your résumé should provide the following:

- Current and Past Positions.
- Education: List degrees, dates awarded, and titles of theses or dissertations.
- Awards and Honors: Include dates. If you have received prior support from NEH or JUSFC, indicate the dates of these grants and the publications that resulted from them.
- Publications: Include full citations for publications and presentations.

- Other Relevant Professional Activities and Accomplishments. Include level of proficiency in Japanese and any other relevant languages.
4. Appendices—Only for Editions, Translations, or Database Projects, Proposals that Include Visual Materials, or Proposals from Applicants Who Have Satisfied all the Requirements for a Degree and are Awaiting its Conferral —Not to Exceed One Single-Spaced Page per Item
- Editions or Translations: Provide a sample of the original text (one page) and the edited or translated version (one page). If you plan to include annotations, your sample of the edited or translated version should include examples.
 - Database Projects: Provide a sample entry (one page).
 - Visual Materials: Provide a sample (one page) in PDF format, not .jpg or other common graphic format.
 - Proposals from Applicants Awaiting the Conferral of a Degree: Provide a PDF version of a signed letter from the dean of the conferring school or the department chair, attesting that you have satisfied all of the requirements for the degree as of April 24, 2019.

Applications including any other appendices will not be reviewed.

5. Explanation of delinquent federal debt, if applicable

If you are delinquent in the repayment of any federal debt, provide explanatory information on a separate page or pages. Also provide evidence that you have entered into a repayment agreement with the Internal Revenue Service, and that you are current on all payments due. Examples of relevant debt include student loans, delinquent payroll or other taxes, and delinquent child support payments. (See OMB Circular A-129.)

6. Letters of Recommendation

In addition to preparing the narrative, bibliography, résumé, appendix (if necessary), and explanation of delinquent federal debt (if applicable), applicants are also asked to solicit two letters of reference. Provide the names, e-mail addresses, and affiliations for your two reference letter writers on the NEH Supplemental Information for Individuals Form. (This form is explained below, in the instructions for Form III.) Letters of reference are more highly regarded if they address the specific proposed activity and the candidate's ability to undertake it. Ideally, referees should come from different institutions. Applicants are responsible for providing both referees with relevant materials (such as a draft of the application).

Approximately seven to ten days after the deadline, NEH will e-mail requests to your letter writers, asking them to submit their letters online. Applicants are responsible for ensuring that these requests have been received. If you are applying to more than one NEH program concurrently, your letter writers must submit a separate letter for each program in which they are listed as your referees. If you find that you must change one or both of your referees after the application deadline, you may do so by contacting program staff.

Letters must be submitted online not later than Sunday, June 2, 2019. Missing reference letters will not disqualify an application from review.

III. Submitting your Application

All applications must be accessed through Grants.gov Workspace, completed, and submitted via Grants.gov.

What follows is a step-by-step guide for submitting your NEH Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan application through Grants.gov.

STEP 1: Register with Grants.gov

NEH strongly recommends that you complete your registration at least two weeks before the application deadline.

If you are registering with Grants.gov for the first time as an individual applicant, go to <https://apply07.grants.gov/apply/register.faces>.

When you are completing the registration form, the Grants.gov system should automatically fill in the box for the DUNS number with a code such as INDV00000. Do not attempt to change this code (for example, by entering the DUNS number of your institution).

Applicants who have already registered at Grants.gov as individuals need not re-register to submit their proposals. We encourage you, however, to check your account ahead of the deadline to confirm that it is still active and that your password has not expired.

Applicants who lose their username and password can request a reminder at <https://apply07.grants.gov/apply/login.faces?userType=applicant&cleanSession=1>.

Please be certain to use a Grants.gov individual account to submit your application. The Grants.gov system will not allow you to submit a Fellowships application through an institutional account.

If you have problems registering with Grants.gov, contact the Grants.gov help desk at 1-800-518-4726 or support@grants.gov.

STEP 2: Download the current version of the free Adobe Reader

Using Grants.gov Workspace to prepare your application, you may complete the application forms online without using the Adobe Acrobat Reader software. You will in any case need to convert the files that you will attach to the Attachments Form—see below for information about this form—into PDFs.

If you are filling out the application forms as PDFs, you will need to download and install the latest version of Adobe Acrobat Reader, which is available at no charge and is compatible with both PCs and Apple computers. Using older versions of the Adobe Acrobat Reader, or other readers such as Apple Preview, will prevent your application from being processed properly. Visit Grants.gov's Adobe Software Compatibility page to verify the compatibility of your current software or to download the appropriate version at <https://www.grants.gov/web/grants/applicants/adobe-software-compatibility.html>.

STEP 3: Access the application package through Grants.gov Workspace

Using Grants.gov Workspace, you may complete the application forms online. You may also download the forms as PDFs. Information about Workspace is available here. (Grants.gov recommends that you use the latest version of any of the following browsers: Microsoft Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome, and Apple Safari.) You can access the forms online or download the PDFs at any time. (You do not have to wait for your Grants.gov registration to be complete.) A link to the Grants.gov application package can be found on the program resource page.

STEP 4: Prepare the application forms

The application package contains three forms that you must complete in order to submit your application:

Form I: Application for Federal Assistance - Individual form—this Grants.gov form (also known as the SF-424 - Individual form) asks for basic information about you and your project.

Form II: Attachments Form—this Grants.gov form allows you to attach the components of your application: the narrative, the bibliography, the résumé, an appendix (if necessary), and (if necessary) an explanation of any delinquent federal debt.

Form III: NEH Supplemental Information for Individuals Form—this NEH form asks for professional and institutional information about you and about your reference-letter writers.

Form I: Application for Federal Assistance – Individual Form

In the “Application Filing Name” field that appears upon opening the application package, type your name.

You may disregard items 1-4 on the form:

1. Name of Federal Agency: This is filled in automatically.

2. Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number: This is filled in automatically.

3. Date Received: Please leave blank.

4. Funding Opportunity Number and Title: Both are filled in automatically.

Provide the following information for items 5-7:

5. Applicant Information (includes the following sections):

a. "Name and Contact Information." Provide your name, telephone number, e-mail address, and mailing address. Note: You must include an e-mail address in the "Email" field, even though it is not highlighted as a required field. NEH will use this e-mail address to notify you of the outcome of your application.

b. "Address." Provide your mailing address. Note: Your ZIP code must include the four-digit extension, preceded by a hyphen. If you do not know your four-digit extension, use "-0000" (four zeros). For postal codes outside the U.S. you may substitute zeroes, if necessary, since this field does not accept letters.

c. "Citizenship Status." Indicate with an "X."

d. "Congressional District of Applicant." Enter the number (just the number, not the state) of your Congressional district. To find the number of your Congressional district, visit the House of Representatives website at <http://www.house.gov> and type your ZIP code into the "Find Your Representative" tool. If you do not have a Congressional district (that is, you are in a state or U.S. territory that does not have districts or you are in a foreign country), enter a "0" (zero). If you live in one district but your institution is in another, provide the number for the district in which you live.

6. Project Information (includes the following sections):

a. "Project Title." Enter this, even though the field is not highlighted. The title may not exceed 125 characters.

The title should be descriptive of the project, substantive, and free of specialized language. Most importantly, your title should be easily understood by the general public. NEH reserves the right to retitle funded projects for clarity when announcing its funding decisions and in its own reports and communications, but recipients are permitted to use their preferred title for any award products. You can find guidance for writing a good title in the Frequently Asked Questions, which are available on the program resource page.

b. "Project Description." Describe your project for a nonspecialist audience, stating the importance of the proposed work to larger issues in the social sciences. This description will appear on your application cover sheet and will serve as a project abstract during the review process. Do not exceed one thousand characters, including spaces. If you exceed one thousand characters, including spaces, the Grants.gov validation software may reject your application or cut off your project description at the thousand-character limit.

c. “Proposed Project.” Enter the starting and ending dates for your project. You must start your proposed period of performance on the first day of the month and end it on the last day of the month. Because award amounts depend on the number of months of work that you specify, the dates that you enter here will determine the maximum amount of your award. You must request a period of performance of no less than six months and no more than twelve months. The period of performance must be full-time and continuous. Teaching and administrative assignments or other major activities may not be undertaken during the fellowship period. No award will exceed $60,000, which is the amount awarded for twelve months of full-time work. You may change your start and end dates if you receive an award, so long as the change does not increase the dollar value of your award. For more information on allowable award terms and how awards are calculated, see “Award Information” on pages 4-5.

7. Signature: By clicking on the “I Agree” box, the applicant certifies the following:

He or she is not presently debarred, suspended, proposed for debarment, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in covered transactions by any federal department or agency, and has not—within the three years preceding the submission of this application—been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against him or her for commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with a public (federal, state, or local) transaction or a contract under a public transaction; for violation of federal or state antitrust statutes; for commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, or receiving stolen property; had any public transactions terminated for cause or default; and is not presently indicted for or otherwise criminally or civilly charged by a governmental entity with any of the preceding offenses.. (See 2 CFR parts 180 and 3369.)

He or she is not delinquent in the repayment of any federal debt or is providing explanatory information about any delinquency. Examples of relevant debt include student loans, delinquent payroll or other taxes, and delinquent child support payments. (See OMB Circular A-129.)

He or she will comply with the NEH Fellowships and Awards for Faculty Terms and Conditions available online at <https://www.neh.gov/grants/manage/neh-fellowships-terms-and-conditions>.

Click on the “Save” button at the top of the form to save your work and return to the main menu.

Form II: Attachments Form

Open the form and complete it.

To ensure that NEH’s system does not reject your application after it has been retrieved from Grants.gov, check that your attachments meet the following requirements:

- 1. The component parts of your application must be attached to the Attachments Form in Portable Document Format (PDF). NEH cannot accept attachments in their original word processing, graphic, or spreadsheet formats. Visit Grants.gov’s Adobe Software

Compatibility page to verify the compatibility of your current software or to download the appropriate version at <https://www.grants.gov/web/grants/applicants/adobe-software-compatibility.html>. Make sure that all files in formats other than PDF (images, Word or Excel files, etc.) have been properly saved as PDF files. Do not simply rename your non-PDF files with PDF extensions. If an attachment contains multiple PDFs, you must merge those documents into a single PDF. Do not attach a zip file containing multiple PDFs.

2. Attachments must be in the specified order and must use the specified file names. Do not use accent marks or other special characters in your file names. Use only the following characters when naming your attachments: A-Z, a-z, 0-9, underscore (_), hyphen (-), space (), period, parenthesis (), curly braces { }, square brackets [], ampersand &, tilde ~, exclamation point !, comma , semicolon ; apostrophe ' , at sign @, number sign #, dollar sign $, percent sign %, plus sign +, equal sign =. File names must be limited to 50 or fewer characters. If you include any other character in a filename, Grants.gov will reject your application.

When you open the Grants.gov Attachments Form, you will find fifteen attachment buttons, labeled "Attachment 1" through "Attachment 15." By clicking on a button, you will be able to choose the file from your computer that you wish to attach. You must name your files exactly as indicated and attach them in the proper order, as listed below:

ATTACHMENT 1: To this button, please attach your project narrative. Name the file "narrative.pdf".

ATTACHMENT 3: To this button, please attach your résumé. Name the file "resume.pdf". Do not include accent marks in the file name ("résumé.pdf"); doing so may cause an error in the processing of your application.

ATTACHMENT 4: To this button, please attach your appendix or appendices (only if necessary). Necessary appendices include editing samples, translation samples, database samples, visual materials, and (for applicants awaiting the conferral of a degree) a signed letter from the dean of the conferring school or your department chair, attesting that you have satisfied all of the requirements for the degree as of April 24, 2019. Name the file "appendix.pdf".

Form III: NEH Supplemental Information for Individuals Form

Open the form and provide the following information:

- Field of Project: Using the drop-down menu, indicate the field(s) of your project. You may select one, two, or three fields. If you select more than one, list the primary field first.
- Project Director Field of Study: Using the drop-down menu, choose the field of study that best describes your area of expertise.
- Address Information: Please indicate whether the address that you have given on the Application for Federal Assistance - Individual form is your home or work address.
- Institutional Affiliation: If you are not affiliated with an institution of higher education, please click “No” and continue to the Status section. If you are affiliated with an institution of higher education, please complete the information for that institution. Applicants with a U.S. institutional affiliation must include their institution’s DUNS number (hyphens must be omitted). This number is generally available from an institution’s sponsored research office or at your institution’s website.
- Status: Indicate if you are a junior scholar or a senior scholar. Junior scholars are defined as those who are seven years or fewer beyond their final degree; senior scholars are defined as those who are more than seven years beyond their final degree.
- Reference Letters: Provide the names, e-mail addresses, and affiliations for your two recommenders. Enter only one e-mail address for each recommender. (Applicants are responsible for providing accurate e-mail addresses. The NEH system will use the addresses exactly as they have been entered on this form.) Applicants are responsible for ensuring that their recommenders have received these requests and that the letters are properly submitted. (For additional information, see the “Checking the Status of Your Letters of Reference” section below.)

To ensure full consideration, letters must be submitted online no later than Sunday, June 2, 2019.

Late letters will be added to your file when they arrive, but it is possible that evaluators will not take them into account.

- Nominating Official: Please leave this section blank.

STEP 5: Submit your application to Grants.gov

When you have completed the Application for Federal Assistance - Individual Form and the NEH Supplemental Information for Individuals Form and attached the component parts of your application to the Attachments Form, perform validation checks on the application as needed, and fix any errors. After you have done so, you are ready to submit your application to Grants.gov.

To submit your application, your computer must have an active connection to the Internet. To begin the submission process, click the “Submit” button. A page will appear, asking you to sign and submit your application. When you click the “Sign and Submit Application” button, your application will be submitted to Grants.gov. Please note that it may take some time to submit your application, depending on the size of your files and the speed of your Internet connection.

After the submission is complete, a confirmation page will appear, showing the tracking number assigned to your application. Please print this confirmation for your records. This confirmation indicates that you have submitted your application to Grants.gov for initial processing. Please see below, under “Confirming the acceptance of your application,” for more details about the additional confirmation messages that you should receive.

Note: If you find that you need to make a change to your application after you have submitted it, you may do so any time before the application deadline. Simply submit the corrected version through Grants.gov. All submissions are time-stamped, and NEH will keep only your most recent one.

Deadline for submitting applications

Applications for Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan must be received and validated by Grants.gov by 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time on April 24, 2019. Grants.gov will date- and time-stamp your application after it is fully uploaded. Applications submitted after that date will not be accepted.

IV. What Happens After the Submission of an Application

Confirming the acceptance of your application

After you submit your application, Grants.gov will send you up to five e-mail messages confirming receipt of your application. These messages represent different stages in the application acceptance process. You should verify that you have received all of the following five confirmation messages. Please note that e-mail filters may send these messages to your spam or junk folder.

Message 1: After you submit your application, Grants.gov will immediately assign the application a Grants.gov tracking number (a number like GRANT11791444). Grants.gov will send you an e-mail with this number. The subject line of the message will include the words “Grants.gov Submission Receipt.”

Message 2: At this point Grants.gov attempts to validate the application. If everything checks out, Grants.gov will send you a second e-mail confirming that it validated the application, and that it will send the application to NEH. The subject line of the message will include the words “Grants.gov Submission Validation Receipt for Application.” (This message—and all subsequent messages from Grants.gov—again includes the Grants.gov tracking number.) But if Grants.gov discovers a problem with the application (for example, the project description component of the Application for Federal Assistance exceeds the thousand-character limit, or a file name includes an unacceptable character such as a comma), then the attempt at validation fails; Grants.gov accordingly rejects the application. Grants.gov would then send you a message, indicating that the application has been “rejected with errors,” and that you must resubmit. Once you correct the error and resubmit, the process starts all over again. (In other words, Grants.gov would then send you a new version of Message 1, including a new Grants.gov tracking number.) Note that NEH does not receive an application that Grants.gov rejects because it has errors.

Message 3: After Grants.gov has validated the application, NEH uploads the application. Grants.gov then sends you a third e-mail to that effect. The subject line of the message will include the words “Grants.gov Agency Retrieval Receipt for Application.” (The “agency” mentioned in the subject line is NEH, which Grants.gov also calls the “grantor agency.”)

Message 4: At this point, NEH assigns its own application number (different from the Grants.gov tracking number) to the application. (The NEH application number will begin with two or three capital letters, followed by a hyphen, followed by six numbers: for example, HD-123456, or HDD-123456.) NEH then informs Grants.gov of the application number that it has assigned. Grants.gov then sends you a fourth e-mail, providing the NEH application number (as well as, again, the Grants.gov tracking number). The subject line of the message will include the words “Grants.gov Agency Tracking Number Assignment for Application.” (What Grants.gov calls the “agency tracking number” is what NEH calls the application number.)

Message 5: Now that NEH has the application, it runs its own check to make sure that the application’s attachments are in proper PDF format. If everything is OK, NEH informs Grants.gov that it has accepted the application. Grants.gov then sends you a fifth e-mail, informing you that NEH has accepted the application. The subject line of the message will include the words “Grants.gov Agency Notes Assigned for Application.” (If NEH accepts the application, the “Agency Notes” are as follows: “Application accepted by agency.”) But if NEH rejects the application, NEH sends its own e-mail directly to you. In that case you will receive two e-mails, one from NEH and one from Grants.gov. The NEH e-mail will inform you of the problem with the application (for example, an attachment was not submitted as a PDF). It will also tell you that you need to correct the error and then to resubmit. In that case the e-mail that Grants.gov sends you will reiterate the fact that NEH rejected the application because of problems with the attachments. After you receive these e-mails you must resubmit the application and await receipt of the five messages explained here.

Additional Information

Grants.gov normally sends these e-mail messages within twenty-four hours of the submission of an application. Delays can, however, occur when system usage is heavy. Each message includes your application’s Grants.gov tracking number, and the fourth and fifth messages also include the NEH application number. Keep these messages for your records.

If you receive a message (ordinarily, the second or the fifth message) indicating that your application has been rejected, read it carefully. It should explain what was wrong with your application, and what you must do to fix the problem. Once you fix the problem, you can resubmit the application (so long as you do so before the program’s application deadline).

If you submit an application and don't receive all five of the e-mail messages, check your "spam" folder, which may contain one or more of them. If you still can't find them, contact Grants.gov immediately to determine the status of your application, by calling 1-800-518-GRANTS (4726) or sending an e-mail to support@grants.gov. Include the Grants.gov tracking number in correspondence regarding the application. You can also use the Grants.gov Track my Application tool to check the status of your application.

As stated above, it is your responsibility as an applicant to confirm that Grants.gov and subsequently NEH have accepted your application, by verifying that you have received all five of the messages described here.

Checking the status of your letters of reference

NEH solicits letters of reference from your recommenders approximately seven to ten days after the application deadline, with instructions for submitting their letters online. You will be notified by e-mail when each of your letters of reference has been received. After you have received your NEH application number, you may also check the status of your letters of reference by logging in to the secure area of NEH's website. Enter your NEH application number and your Grants.gov tracking number. You will be able to see the names and e-mail addresses of your letter writers and whether their letters of reference have arrived. If necessary, you may send reminders to your letter writers (including the upload link) from this site. You are responsible for ensuring that your letter writers have received the solicitations from NEH and submitted their letters.

Review and selection process

All applications receive peer review. Knowledgeable persons outside NEH will read each application and advise the agency about its merits. NEH staff comments on matters of fact or on significant issues that otherwise would be missing from these reviews, then makes recommendations to the National Council on the Humanities. The National Council meets at various times during the year to advise the NEH chairman. The chairman takes into account the advice provided by the review process and, by law, makes all funding decisions. More details about NEH's review process are available here.

Information for all applicants and for successful applicants

NEH will notify applicants of the results of their applications by e-mail in late December 2019. Notice will be sent to the e-mail address supplied in the application. All applicants may obtain the evaluations of their applications by sending an e-mail message to fellowships@neh.gov.

Before submitting an application, applicants should review NEH's Research Misconduct Policy.

To accept an award, you must agree to the terms set forth in the NEH Fellowships and Awards for Faculty Terms and Conditions document and any specific terms and conditions contained in the award document.

Please note that if you apply to the Summer Stipends program and subsequently accept a Fellowship for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan award, your application to the Summer Stipends program will be automatically withdrawn.

A final performance report will be due within ninety days after the end of the period of performance. This report must be submitted electronically via eGMS Reach, NEH's online grant management system. Instructions for preparing the final report are available in eGMS Reach.

A final financial report is not required.
